SPAIN'S GREATEST NEED.

Mr. R. P. Oliva, of Barcelona, Spain, spends his winters at Aiken, S. C. Weak nerves had caused severe pains in the back of his head. On using Electric Bitters, America's greatest blood and nerve purifier, all pain soon left him. He says this grand medicine is what his country needs. All America knows that it cures liver and kidney trouble, purifies the blood, tones up the stomach, strengthens the nerves, puts vim, vigor and new life into every muscle, nerve and organ of the body. If weak, tired or ailing you need it. Every bottle guaranteed, only 50 cents. Sold by Penny, Drugist.

Two well dressed young men worked the German Insurance Bank of Louisville, for $5,000 Monday. The cashier was called up over the telephone by the supposed cashier of the Citizens National Bank and asked if he could furnish $5,000 in currency of certain denominations. Receiving an affirmative answer, he said he would send two men for it. The two men went, got the $5,000 and skipped.

Rev. John G. Fee, 83, fell and seriously injured himself. Was one of the founders of the Berea College and built the first house in the town.

The Christian Scientists are in session in Boston this week, posing as martyrs, in all probability, because people persistently refuse to recognize them, either as Christians or scientists.

Several Methodist bishops and other distinguished church men are attending a big rally in Louisville, the object of which is to help raise $1,500,000, which the Southern Methodist church is seeking to secure by the income of the new century as a 20th Century Fund to the cause of education.

The golden jubilee of the Trappist Monastery at Gethsemane, Nelson county, is attended with pomp and grandeur. Hundreds of priests and laymen from all over the country are present. The most distinguished visitor was Mgr. Martinelli, the Pope's legate in the United States, who celebrated Pontifical mass for the first time in Kentucky. The life of these Trappist Monks is one of unceasing rigidity. They never speak save when absolutely necessary. They arise at 2 A. M., spend six hours in devotion and eight in manual labor of the hardest description. They eat no meat, living on the vegetables they raise on their thousands of acres surrounding the beautiful abbey.

AN EPIDEMIC.—There is a newspaper starting epidemic now in its acute stage in Kentucky, and the inevitable result must be that about a year hence there will be several persons who will have done more work in the interim than in all the previous portion of their lives, gained more experience and lost more money. In some places there may be conditions which call for the establishment of a newspaper, and when such is the case a new venture may succeed in time by dint of energy and perseverance. But in most cases the promoters of country newspapers are doomed to defeat and disappointment. If a man feels that he has been "called" to the newspaper business, and can not resist the movements of the spirit, he had better look around and purchase some established organ. We have reason to believe that about half the newspapers in Kentucky are for sale, and it is better to risk doctoring one of these delicate adults than to attempt to rear a newspaper infant on wind, promises and delinquent subscriptions.—Marion Falcon.

DANCING.—Bishop Seymour said in a sermon at Springfield, Ill.: "Dancing is not inherently evil, any more than money is, or the drama is or music. It may be, and often is abused. There are lascivious dances. So also are there lewd songs and improper plays, and vile purposes to which money is put, but these are not arguments against the legitimate use of music or the drama, or money. So precisely with dancing; it comes under the same category, and no one can any more consistently condemn dancing than he can condemn money or music or the drama."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Thankful words written by Mrs. Ada E. Hart, of Groton, S. D.: "Was taken with a bad cold which settled on my lungs; cough set in and finally terminated in Consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my savior, determined if I could not stay with my friends on earth, I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles. It has cured me, and thank God, I am saved and now a well and healthy woman." Trial bottles free at Penny's Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1. Guaranteed or price refunded.

By depositing 50 cents with joint agent, tickets may be extended to and including Aug. 20. See C. H. & D. agents for information.

THE EAGLE, KING OF ALL BIRDS. Is noted for its keen sight, clear and distinct vision. So are those persons who use Sutherland's Eagle Eye Salve for weak eyes, styles, sore eyes of any kind or granulated lids. Sold at Penny's at 25 cents.

Burning Negroes in Georgia does not seem to have much effect. There have been four criminal assaults on white women in a week.

LANCASTER.

After Saturday the Stone and Goebel men in this county, will find the road a hard'n to travel.

Mr. Frank Marksberry came home from Louisville for vacation. He is progressing rapidly with his studies.

The race for the republican nomination is virtually between Dr. Hunter and Gov. Bradley and the nominee will not likely carry the full strength of the party.

Our people are confident that Miss Ellene Hiatt will compare favorably with others, in the contest in your city on the 16th, and they will not be surprised if she captures first prize.

A prominent democrat in this city offers to bet two to one that Stone will carry Garrard county and that Hardin will go into the State convention ahead with Goebel third. He also offers to bet even that Stone will be the nominee.

Rumors are afloat of the coming marriage of two of our most popular and influential people, but I am not authorized to give particulars. The prospective groom has white hair and, although his name indicates it, he is not poor.

Two fine calves belonging to County Clerk J. M. Duncan, died suddenly, the symptoms indicating poison. It is thought that they ate some poisonous weed, though nothing known to be poisonous can be found in the lot where they grazed.

The many friends of Rev. H. N. Faulconer are glad to hear of his prospects to be called to preach at Owensboro and they feel that his earnestness, zeal and superior attainments will give perfect satisfaction.

It is thought here that there is a combination on between the friends of two of the candidates for governor, in order to capture the convention on the 17th. This may work well that day but the effects will be harmful as most men abhor such a course and oppose a two to one combat in anything.

Squire I. M. Myers is acting county judge while Judge Burnside is at Dripping Springs. Senator Farris has returned from the Bimetallic convention at Louisville, stronger in the faith than ever, having taken the hand and touched the hem of the garment of the champion, taking in democratic doctrine by absorption.

The city council at its regular meeting Monday night, agreed to advertise for bids for a franchise to establish water works in this city. Forty plugs at $50 each, or $2,000, will furnish the town and it is claimed that 25 cents on each $100 will pay the amount, the rate then not exceeding the limit. The numerous advantages of such an enterprise having been published, many leading tax payers have petitioned the board to take this step, and success is highly probable. Mr. E. P. Moritz, who has been quite active in agitating the question, will likely get the contract. He was here Wednesday and appointed Mr. E. W. Harris to solicit private subscriptions for water.

There is a strong feeling here to divide the Garrard delegation among the three candidates for governor, in proportion to the strength developed in the county convention. This has been done and I appeal to every man to know why it is not the only just and equitable way to settle the matter. In the county as in the State convention, the victor should receive a majority of all the votes. A plurality vote being recognized in the county conventions, might finally defeat the will of the majority in the State convention. The county meetings create the State meeting and the majority rule should prevail in the first named as well as in the last named. If 300 attend the county convention, 125 of whom are favorable to one candidate, 100 to another and 75 to another, it would be the grossest injustice to instruct the entire delegation for the man who gets 125 votes, when there are 175 against him. The delegates are expected to represent the voters, and in the case named, a man may be nominated when only about 1/3 of the voters have expressed for him. Let us do the fair thing and give each man his strength.

Editor Walton, of the Stanford INTERIOR JOURNAL, announces his conclusion not to retire from journalism. The readers of his interesting paper are to be heartily congratulated upon this decision. For 25 years the INTERIOR JOURNAL has been a newspaper medium of great force and influence under his management. He has had convictions upon all subjects and expressed them in a fearless and manly style. He has made some enemies, but the rest of the world has admired him the more on that account. His paper has been upright, newsy and interesting. There are but few in Kentucky that can be compared to it. We want more Walton on the Kentucky press.—Owensboro Messenger.

LUNG IRRITATION.

Is the forerunner to consumption. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey will cure it and give such strength to the lungs that a cough or a cold will not settle there. Twenty five cents at Penny's Drug Store.

THE INTERIOR JOURNAL

STANFORD, KY., - JUNE 9, 1899

W. P. WALTON.

THE Louisville Post works itself up to the point of asserting, though we doubt if it believes the assertion, that while Stone or Hardin can be easily elected, Goebel is too greatly handicapped by the measures he has championed to win, if he should be nominated. Then at some length, the paper tries to show what monstrous bills are the McChord bill, the Chinn School Book bill and the Goebel Election bill. While personally we have thought that the McChord bill gave too much power to the railroad commission, and is therefore dangerous, the editor of the Post has only to put his ear to the ground or come in touch with the people to find how popular the bill is and how necessary a majority of the voters considers it to checkmate the rapacity of the railroads. There is nothing wrong about the school bill, in fact it is all right and necessary to prevent the trusts from putting a premium against education, while experience has demonstrated that the election law is almost indispensable to secure an honest vote and a fair count. The Post man is away off if he thinks any of these measures will hurt the man who champions them. They are in the interest of the masses and Senator Goebel's manly position on them has made him thousands of friends, who are going to see that he is nominated and then prove that Editor Knott is neither a prophet nor the offspring of one.

The old summer coon of the Richmond Pantagraph ought to know, if in fact he does not know, that there is no resemblance between the Lodge Force bill and the Goebel Election law. There is no force about the latter. It is a measure to insure honest elections by requiring that the leading parties be given representation in every election precinct. Under the old law the county judge, if he was partisan, as in nearly every county in the 11th district he was, appointed his political friends officers of the election, ignoring the democrats altogether. That can not be done under the Goebel law, which a leading, a better, and a longer time, republican than the s. c. of the Pantagraph, says he is for, with an amendment requiring the election board to appoint those republicans election officers that the county committee shall name. Read the bill, old fellow, and if changing your politics has not warped your good sense, you will see that it is a good enactment.

WHILE we hope and believe we will not have to support Mr. Hardin for governor, we can do so with a clear conscience, if he is nominated, and not have to eat crow as some of the democratic newspapers will have to do in the event their man is not nominated. We do not think Mr. Hardin the best man to nominate, nor the strongest by a good many thousand votes, but we have never charged that he is not a democrat or that he is corrupt or venal. He is in fact a mighty good fellow in his way, but we do not think that way lies this time for governor. He has had his chance. Let him take a rear seat in the synagogue while another is given the opportunity that he failed to embrace.

HANNA having demonstrated that money is all powerful in Ohio politics by having his man nominated for governor, is preparing to take a rest from his labors as a party boss, by going to Europe. He has told his close friends that he does not want to take charge of the next presidential campaign, alleging ill health as the reason, but the real reason is he realizes clearly that he is looked upon as the special champion of the trusts and combinations which will probably be made the principal issue in the next campaign, and that he might be a heavy load for the republican organization to carry.

SECRETARY LONG is of the opinion that the reason subscriptions to the Dewey Home fund are so small is that the people are waiting to learn if the gift will be acceptable to the admiral. We suspect that the real reason is that sensible people, who have the money for such doings, have determined that Dewey has enough now and will not take part in the silly performance of greasing the fat sow.

THE misfit attorney general, who is running for the republican nomination for governor, is getting such a bulge on the boys that they will never catch up. He has already 150 instructed votes and a stray county instructing for him is heard from nearly every day. Alas that a party, which has a Stone and a Pratt, should turn them down for such a creature as Taylor.

THERE will be no bloodshed at Manchester. The Gatling gun settled that. Col. Williams made a detachment of his troops give an exhibition of its work to the awed feudists and they went away determined never to come in range of "that ar critter."

THE Burgin Messenger died and left no signs. It was not even necessary to let the public know it was sick.

Since it is foreordained that the democrats are to win in Kentucky this fall, it's a pity we can't have the satisfaction of silencing a bigger gun than the 22 calibre statesmen from Butler county.—Louisville Times.

In an interview with the Lexington Leader, Hon. D. G. Colson says he would like to be judge of the London circuit for one term to get things in shape, implying that Judge Eversole is not able to keep the bulldozers down.

The Glasgow Times says that Mrs. Wm. Jennings Bryan went to sleep on her husband while he was making a speech there, much to the discomfort of his little daughter Ruth, who seized the maternal arm, shook it soundly and exclaimed in an audible whisper: "Wake up, ma! Wake up! Pa's making a real good speech!" The incident was enjoyed by no one more than the Bryan family, through whom in fact, it became public.

The other ladies present were Misses Olive Woodson, of Kansas City, Fannie Shanks, Jennie and Marie Warren, Kate Alcorn and Esther Burch. The fortunate gentlemen were Messrs. P. M. McRoberts, R. G. Denny, G. T. Lackey, Harvey Helm, W. W. Withers, W. S. Burch and Sergt. J. Henry Jones, of Knoxville. Mrs. G. L. Penny made an excellent chaperone and the elegant lunch spread by Mrs. Steele Bailey, assisted by Mrs. Mary Burch, was enjoyed as only good eatings can be after drinking of the invigorating Cook's spring. Altogether it was a day to be treasured in sweetest memory.

STANFORD FEMALE COLLEGE CLOSING ITS 31ST YEAR MOST BRILLIANTLY LAST NIGHT.

SIX SWEET GIRL GRADUATES RECEIVE DIPLOMAS.

THE third of the series of exhibitions by the Stanford Female College occurred Wednesday night, when Walton's Opera House was filled to the doors to hear Misses Ellen and Flora Ballou's classes in music and elocution recite. In the former three pianos were used and in most cases there were three performers to the instrument. The ease and grace with which they executed the most difficult numbers showed the excellence of the instruction and the hard, patient work of the instructor. The elocutionary efforts were also very superior and proved that the little ladies had a teacher, who is thoroughly competent to teach the beautiful art. The program was as follows:

Piano Overture—Hebrides, Mendelssohn, Myrtle Hughes, Linda Miller, Jennie Lynn, Stella Ballou, Etta Belle Cloyd, Catherine Beazley. Concert Recitation—Since Bertie Began the Delsarte, Etta Belle Cloyd, Virginia Pickett, Mattie Menefee, Linda Miller, Anna Darst, Alvira VanArsdale, Sarah Baughman, Polly Traylor, Jagie Dawson, Lenna Hobbs.

Piano—Shenandoah, Webb, Mary McRoberts, Archie Elkin, Catherine Huffman, Susan VanArsdale, Katie Bastin, Mary VanArsdale. Recitation—Angela Rainor, Virginia Bourne. Piano—Valse Brillant, Tito Mattel, Allie Huffman, Archie Elkin, Alvira VanArsdale, Susan VanArsdale, Sarah Baughman, Katie Mershon.

Recitation—The Story Cathie Told, Minnie Sine. Piano—Airs from Il Trovatore, Verdi, Arethusa McAllister, Mary Hundley, Sarah Baughman, Marie Alcorn, Katie Mershon, Marie Mahony.

Recitation—A Horse Race Fifty Years Ago, Sallie Lynn. Recitation—Aunt Sue, Catherine Huffman.

A Study in Draping, Class in Physical Culture. Piano—Barber de Seville, Rossini, Myrtle Hughes, Etta Belle Cloyd, Allie Huffman, Catherine Beazley, Stella Ballou, Mary Phillips, Linda Miller, Stella Hill, Jennie Lynn.

Ma Dusenberry and Her "Gears." In the latter amusing after piece, Miss Sallie Lynn, who is quite a little actress, was grotesquely dressed as was her 15 gears, and she introduced them and their specialties to the audience in a most laughable way. The music, singing and recitations of the "gears" brought down the house, as did the performances of the five boys, Trueheart Bourne, John Beck, John Shanks, Ed Hale and Guy Ballou. The whole was a pleasing finale of an entertainment, meritorious from start to finish.

At the commencement exercises last night the jam was terrific. With an ordinary seating capacity of 500 there must have been 700 or 800 in the Opera House, and it was with difficulty that the graduates and their ushers reached the stage. Instead of boys as heretofore young ladies acted as ushers and were Misses Sallie Lynn, Nancy Newland, Linda Miller, Lita Belle Cash, Etta Belle Cloyd and Mary H. Bohon, Kit Huffman and Mary Cooper Penny preceded the couples down either aisle and remained on the stage to take the favors to the pretty graduates, who were clad in purest white and sat in semicircle with Dr. Shelton in the middle. Rev. S. M. Rankin invoked the divine blessing and the following program was observed:

Piano—Entrance March, Chevalier de Kinski—Misses Anna Gover, Alvira VanArsdale, Jennie Lynn, Stella Hill. Essay—Mental Training—Miss Nettie Beck.

Piano—Gockentone, Spindler—Misses Minnie Sine, Mary Hundley, Marie Mahony, Kate Walton Waters, Josephine Hayden, Katie Bastin. Essay—"No poison lurks in earthen mugs."

But golden cups are filled drugs.—Miss Anna Darst. Piano—Ad Astra, Grass—Misses Virginia Bourne, Arethusa McAllister, Sotie Alcorn, Mary Higgins.

Essay—Newly Opened Doors—Miss Louise Eastland. Recitation—"Wock o' Bages," Hans Gobel—Miss Anna Darst.

Essay—The Past Can Never be Retrieved, be the Present What it May—Miss Sallie Givens.

Song—"If I was a Girl," Bristow—Sine Daddarar. Essay—Diving—Miss Lena Griffin.

Song—"If I were a Boy," Bristow—Miss Kit Huffman. Essay—1900—Miss Stella McClary.

Piano—Polonaise, Gobbbaerts—Misses Etta Belle Cloyd, Linda Miller, Myrtle Hughes, Mary Phillips.

All of the essays were well prepared and admirably read and each of the six graduates were favored not only with many beautiful floral offerings, but with handsome presents, fruits and confectioneries. In addition to her excellent essay, Miss Anna Darst recited "Wock o' Bages" very sweetly and plaintively. The songs of Little Sine Daddarar and Kit Huffman elicited long and vociferous applause.

Dr. Shelton delivered the diplomas with appropriate remarks, stating that while all of the graduates had taken the prescribed course, Miss Eastland had taken Latin in addition. The young ladies received their honors gracefully, the exercises were pronounced at an end and the 31st year of the college passed into memory.

This has been the most successful year at the college for several. The attendance has averaged over 100, there has been no sickness and no friction in the faculty, each member contributing a full quota to the general success. We congratulate President Wm. Shelton and the faithful lady principal, Mrs. Nannie S. Sauley, and trust that when Sept. 4th rolls 'round they will be greeted with the largest number of pupils ever seen at the institution.

We are glad to learn that Misses Mattie Paxton, Ellen and Flora Ballou, who have filled their places so gratifyingly, will remain at the heads of their departments next session. Miss Eudora Axtell, who has given much satisfaction, her friends will regret to know, will not return and there is a possibility that Miss Mary Hubbard, the accomplished art teacher, may not return. We sincerely hope, however, that she will as she has greatly endeared herself to all whom she has met, in addition to being a most excellent teacher.

ROLL OF HONOR.—The names of the pupils of Stanford Female College, who are on the roll of honor for the session ending June 9th, are as follows: Stella McClary, Anna Darst, Lena Griffin, Louise Eastland, Sallie Givens, Sotie Alcorn, Evelyn Eastland, Allie VanArsdale, Lucy Hall, Susan VanArsdale, Lucile Cooper, Virginia Pickett, Carrie Frith, Katie Warren, Polly Traylor, Lenna Hobbs, Jagie Dawson, Mary Higgins and Mary McRoberts.

Stanford Lodge I. O. O. F.

THERE was a tie at the end of the 9th inning between our club and the Crab Orchards Tuesday afternoon and two more innings had to be played before it could be broken. Then it stood 19 to 20 in favor of the unbeaten Stanfords, who are preparing to challenge the League Club.

ACCIDENT.—Charlie Upsher, a 12-year-old boy, who lives with Mrs. Ador at the cheese factory, had one of his legs cut almost off yesterday afternoon by a mower. He stepped in front of it and unthoughtfully struck the horses and failed to get out of the way. Drs. L. B. Cook and W. B. O'Bannon were called, and although both bones were nearly severed, will try to save the limb.

THE managers of the elocutionary contest, Messrs. E. H. Beazley and S. W. Menefee, tell us that from inquiries and the interest shown in other ways over the entertainment to be held here June 16, the seating capacity of the Opera House will be taxed to its utmost. The safest and surest way to guard against having to stand, is to go to McRoberts' drug store and secure a seat. It will cost you but 75c.

THE HOWARD-BAKER FUED.

INTERESTING STATEMENT OF ITS ORIGIN AND PROGRESS.

A correspondent at Manchester has sent out this statement of the causes of the feud, which is brought to present notice by the trials of the Bakers, under guard of the State militia.

The feud in Clay county had its origin more than half a century ago, and through the existence of which there is scarcely an acre within the county boundaries but what holds the spot where some member of a thrifty populace—shot from ambush and left to die unattended, and in most instances, in ignorance of the identity of his unseen slayer.

The chief industry in Clay county in the earlier decades of the present century was the manufacture of salt. In fact, until a few years before the civil war—before the building of railroads west and south—the salt used in the Virginias, the Carolinas, Kentucky, Tennessee and much of that which went to the market in Ohio, came from Clay county.

Salt was manufactured almost exclusively by two families, the Whites and the Garrards. Through this industry they amassed great wealth. With few exceptions the entire populace depended upon one or the other of these families for a livelihood. In this manner the heads of the respective families became the leaders of a populace politically divided, and which they ruled much after the fashion by which the Highland Chieftain controlled his Scottish subordinates two centuries ago.

Aside from an occasional difficulty on election days there was no bloodshed among these people until in the early 40s. In 1843 Dr. Thomas Baker, then a young man, and the intimate associate of Theophilus T. Garrard, who who is known in the history of the Mexican war as Gen. Garrard, and who, now in his 87th year, still lives and conducts his salt works in Clay county, married the daughter of John White. She was very beautiful and had been given a splendid education by her rich father. About the same time John Bates, a wealthy young man, who was identified with the Whites in the manufacture of salt, married the elder sister of Mrs. Dr. Baker.

The two young couples became more intimate than is usual in that mountainous country. In 1845 Dr. Baker became insanely jealous of his wife and Bates. Finally in a fit of rage he deserted her and went to Knoxville and began suit for divorce, but suddenly withdrew it and returned to Manchester, riding the distance horseback in two days. He galloped directly to the salt works, called Bates to the door and shot him with an old fashioned "pepper-box" pistol. Bates died in great agony, but in full consciousness, half an hour later. In his death throes he cursed Baker and authorized the expenditure of $10,000 from his estate toward the capture and conviction of his slayer.

This tragedy greatly excited the populace. Everywhere men were hunting for the fugitive Baker. The chase grew so warm that Baker's relatives and friends finally persuaded him to give himself up. He was taken back to Manchester and put under the protection of Gen. Garrard and the followers of his father. Soon he had an examining trial, and on being acquitted went with his brother to Knoxville. At the next term of circuit court the grand jury indicted Baker for the murder of Bates. Believing that he would again be acquitted, he returned to Manchester for trial. The Whites prosecuted him so vigorously that the jury returned a verdict of guilty and he was taken a few days later to the scaffold and hanged. This was in 1846.

A bitter enmity thus bred now existed between the Garrards and the Whites and their respective followers, and on through the 53 years which have passed since that fatal day, a bloody war, with occasional armistices has raged in Clay county.

In the fall of 1897 it broke out afresh, the precipitation being the county election in November, when Anse Baker and George Hall, a member of the White faction, had a pistol duel, in which Hall was badly wounded. Shortly after this episode Hall's house was burned. At the following term of the circuit court Anse Baker was indicted for maliciously shooting Hall, and Jno. Baker, his brother, was indicted for burning Hall's house. These cases came up for trial at the February (1898) term of court in Clay county and were continued until the June term.

James Howard, the county assessor, and Bal Howard, his father, who were Hall's friends, took a lively interest in the prosecution of the Bakers. In April 1898, Bal Howard, his son Wilson and Burch Storr, a laborer, were shot from ambush. The latter two were killed. For this Tom Baker, his 14-year-old son, Jim, and Dee Baker, Tom's brother, were indicted and given bail. Jas. Howard, on hearing of the killing of his father, proceeded to the Cave Creek neighborhood. He met County Attorney George Baker, father of Tom and Dee Baker, in the road and shot him without a word. For this he was tried at London last July and sentenced to imprisonment for life. He was granted a new trial, however, and at the October term of court, he made a

CAPT. GEORGE GREEN.

Capt. George Green is a native of Covington and was educated at George town College for the ministry. At the opening of the Spanish-American war he volunteered his services and enlisted as a private in the ranks of Co. M, 2d Ky. Vol. So highly esteemed was he that he was made captain of the company. He acted major of his battalion a good deal of the time, he having plea of insanity. The jury disagreed and the case was continued until the coming October. Howard is now out on bail and is helping the Whites hold the town of Manchester against the Baker faction. In this difficulty, Sheriff B. P. White, Jr., and his brother, Will White took the side of Howard and made incendiary speeches against the Bakers. In July last, Tom Baker and his brother Dee, met Will White riding along the road. White drew a revolver, but Tom Baker, who carried an English rifle, was too quick for him, and White fell from his horse mortally wounded by a 50 calibre dynamite ball. Baker never stopped, walking on without even turning his head in the direction of his dying enemy. A lady living near the scene of the tragedy ran to White's aid, but he was beyond human power and died with his head in the woman's lap and a curse of Tom Baker on his lips.

For this Tom Baker and his brother Dee, were arrested and taken to Stanford for safe-keeping. Tom was tried at Barbourville at the February term of court and given a life sentence. The court of appeals, however, reversed the case and Baker was a few days ago released on $3,000 bail.

Together with his brother Dee and his son James, Tom Baker is now compelled to answer to the circuit court for killing Wilson Howard and Burch Storr and the wounding of old man Bal Howard. Some of the Howards have sworn that they will kill Tom Baker and Dee as soon they come within the range of their rifles. On the other hand, the Bakers declare that they will protect their lives. The troops will doubtless prevent trouble, however.

A. King Cook, of Pineville, was chosen as special judge to try the Bakers at Manchester, whose cases were called Wednesday. He married a sister of Miss Annie Dishman, who went to school here, and is said to be a fine lawyer.

Maj. Allen and a detachment of 20 soldiers went to Crane's Creek and brought the Bakers in Tuesday. The Bakers, as by prearrangement, were at the home of Jerry Collins. On the arrival of the soldiers they found the Bakers surrounded by armed men who evidently feared a trick and did not propose to be taken by surprise. The Bakers were all armed with heavy 45 calibre Colt's revolvers, big enough to push on wheels. They were disarmed and placed in the camp guard house. The trial has begun and though trouble is feared there is little danger of it.
